The Thomas and Elizabeth Cowes Family

Thomas Cowes was born about 1535. He was a fisherman, and described himself as such when he made his will on 27 Jul 1587, leaving legacies to the church, to his sons John, Bennett, Robert, Gregory, and William, and to his wife and executrix, Elizabeth. The will was proved 25 Oct 1587. (Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 57 Spenser). His widow was buried at West Town (West Teignmouth) 13 Nov 1613.

1. Their son Thomas was baptized 16 Jul 1559 and was probably that sailor who was buried in Ireland while on voyage on 27 Jul 1587. He had two daughters Marie and Elizabeth, who were each left a sheep in their grandmother's will.

Their son William was baptized 8 Sep 1561 and married on 22 Jan 1589, Avis Tapley. They had eight children:

- Marie, bp 15 Nov 1590 who probably died in infancy;
- Twins John and Robert, baptized 24 Nov 1592 and buried 16 Dec 1594;
- Michael, bp 3 Oct 1594, who was left a clock in his grandmother's will;
- Robert, bp 1 Nov 1595;
- Twins Mary and Thomasine, who were both baptized and buried 10 Jan 1597; and
- Susan, bp 31 Aug 1606, who was left a sheep by her grandmother.

2. Their son Gregory was baptized 9 Jul 1564 and married Elizabeth ?. They had six children:

- Avis, who was left her grandmother's great chest; she married Edward Ford on 30 Oct 1620;
- Annis, buried 27 Jan 1594
- Johan, baptized 17 Oct 1596, received her grandmother's best petticoat in her will;
- Thomas, bp. 2 Sep 1599;
- Sidwell, bp 14 Aug 1603, who received one sheep from her grandmother. She married 1) Allen Leyman on 4 Feb 1625 and 2) Hercules Bassett.
- John, bp. 13 Jul 1606, who received his grandmother's great platter dish. He married 25 Nov 1635 Agnes Bak, then died and was buried on 14 Feb 1643.

3. Their son Robert was bp 17 Nov 1568 and married 8 Feb 1596 Sidwell Zenie. They had no known children.

4. Their son Bennett married on 5 Dec 1597 Johan Cowes. Their children were:

Johan bp. 17 Aug 1598

- John, buried 18 Apr 1601
- Edward, bp 18 Sep 1603 who received a "crocke" from his grandmother
- Dorothy bp 29 May 1606 and buried 22 Dec 1607;
- Michael bp. 6 Aug 1609 who also received a "crocke". He and his brother Edward were named as godchildren in their grandmother's will.

5. [Their youngest son John was baptized on 30 Nov 1570 and received in his mother's will a "Butt of Bees."]

Third Generation Michaels

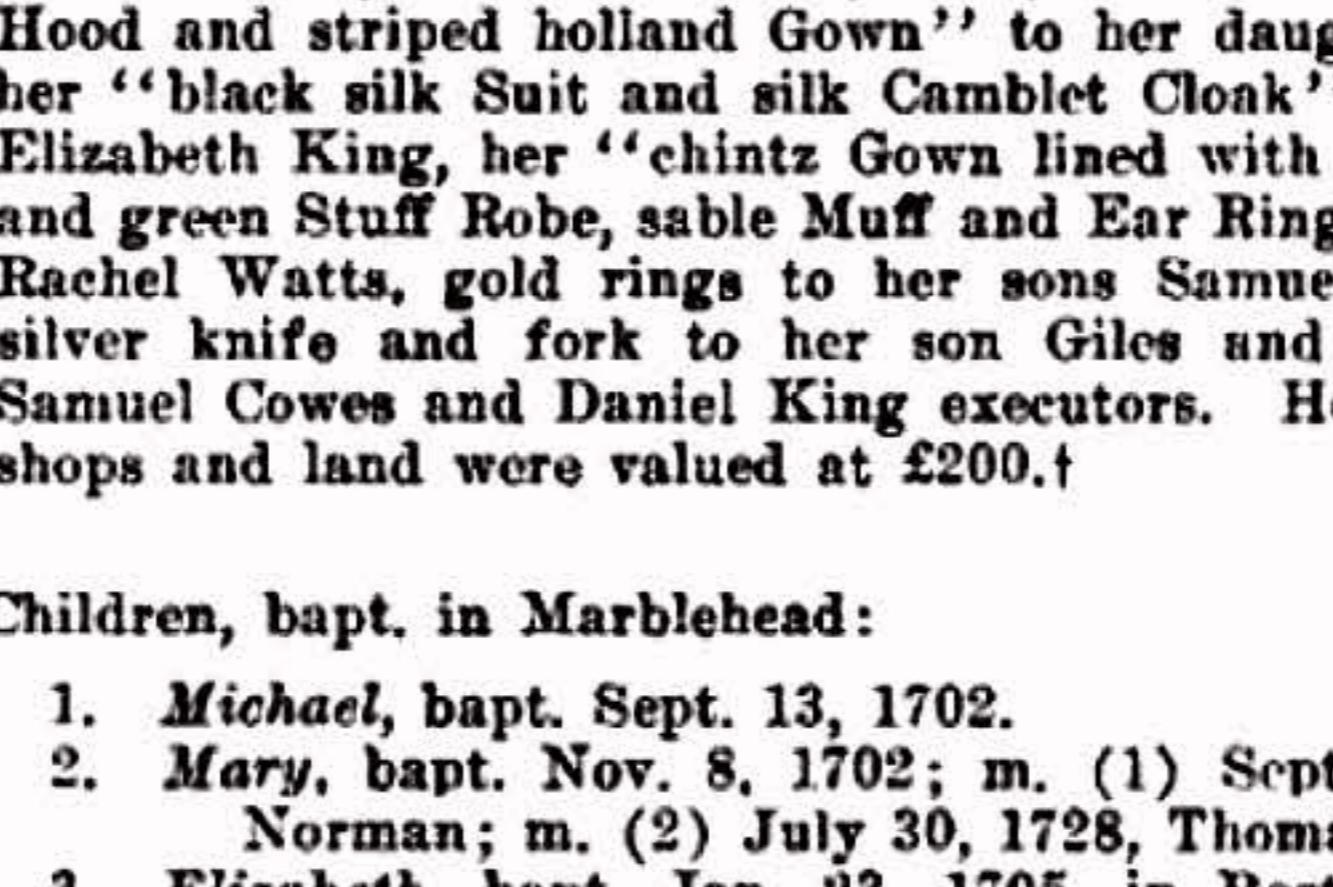

Thomas and Elizabeth had two grandsons named Michael, the son of their son William bp. in 1594 and the son of their son Bennett bp. in 1609. Both of these boys lived long enough to marry and have children. William's son Michael married first Mary Lee on 26 Nov 1618, and they had Jane, bp 28 Sep 1619. He then married on 27 Jan 1624 Joan Peter, and they had Peter, Avis, Susan, and Silvester between 1627 and 1632. Bennett's son Michael married Grace Andrew on 22 Jan 1631. We know the child Grace to be theirs because she shares her mother's name.

That leaves seven children born after 1633 when both Michaels were married. It is impossible to tell whether they are the children of William's son Michael and his second wife Joan or Bennett's son Michael and his wife Grace. These children were:

- Christian, bp 4 Aug 1633
- Edward bp. 3 Oct 1633, buried 24 Nov 1636
- Richard, bp 25 Oct 1635, buried 11 Feb 1643
- John, bp 29 Nov 1635
- Michael bp 4 Aug 1639
- Robert bp 2 Jul 1642
- Elizabeth bp 14 Oct 1649

The First American Generations

MICHAEL COES (Michael, William or Bennett, Thomas), baptized at Stokeinteignhead Aug. 4, 1639, was a fisherman in Marblehead, Massachusetts, in 1677 when he made a deposition in which his age was stated to have been "about forty." There is an earlier record of him in America, however, for in 1668 John Card of Kittery, Maine, who held an unexpired lease of property called Lower Gabwell at Combeinteignhead, the next parish to Stokeinteignhead, assigned it to Michael Cowes of Combeinteignhead, fisherman, whose father Michael Cowes the elder was already in possession.*

Michael Cowes married in Marblehead about 1677 GRACE STACEY, who died March, 1735/6, aged seventy-seven. He was constable of the town in 1679. His fishing business was carried on in partnership with his father-in-law John Stacey, and the records of their leases of flake-yards from the town appear in the books from 1685 to 1700. His home was on the east side of Broad street (now Washington street). Administration on his estate was granted to his widow Grace Cowes June 30, 1715.

Children, bapt. in Marblehead:

1. MICHAEL; m. by Rev. Cotton Mather in Boston July 7, (1701?), to RACHEL SHORT; administration on his estate granted to his widow July 16, 1718. His widow kept a shop in Marblehead and it would seem very profitably. She died in April, 1736, and her will, dated March 3, 1735, left her "camblet Riding Hood and striped holland Gown" to her daughter Mary Killy, her "black silk Suit and silk Camblet Cloak," to her daughter Elizabeth King, her "chintz Gown lined with Green Lutestring and green Stuff Robe, sable Muff and Ear Rings" to her daughter Rachel Watts, gold rings to her sons Samuel and Thomas, a silver knife and fork to her son Giles and named her sons Samuel Cowes and Daniel King executors. Her dwelling-house, shops and land were valued at £200.

Michael Coes House. This house and lot of land was owned by Thomas Bowen of Marblehead, fisherman, and, for twenty pounds, he conveyed the estate to Robert Codner of Marblehead, fisherman, Aug. 10, 1660.|| The house and lot were in the possession of Michael Coes of Marblehead, fisherman, before 1689; and he died, possessed of the estate, before June 30, 1715, when administration was granted upon his estate. His children, Samuel Coes of Marblehead, fisherman, Grace, widow of Thomas Pousland of Marblehead, deceased, Thomas Peach and wife Mary, Samuel Nicholson, for himself and his children, William Nicholson and wife Elizabeth, Benjamin Salter and wife Sarah, Thomas Main and wife Elenor, released their interest in the southwestern part of the house and lot to their mother Grace Cows in 1719-20.* This was apparently a new part that had been added to the old house by their father, and his widow was then living in it. It was apparently nearer the street than the old house, though one stack of chimneys was used for both parts. Mrs. Coes, for ninety pounds, conveyed that part of the house and lot to her son Michael's widow Rachel (he having deceased before July 16, 1718, when administration was granted upon his estate), of Marblehead, shopkeeper, June 3, 1720.† Mrs. Rachel Coes died possessed of her part of the house and land in April, 1736; and for one hundred and ninety pounds, the executors of her will conveyed eight-ninths of her end of the house and lot to Alexander Watts of Marblehead, mariner, Feb. 1, 1738.‡

The old part of the house and the northeastern part of the lot was conveyed by William Nicholson, fisherman, and wife Elizabeth, widow Elenor Main and widow Grace Pousland, all of Marblehead, children of Michael Coes, who died in 1715, for four pounds, to Alexander Watts of Marblehead, merchant, who owned the rest of the premises, May 10, 1750.§ The old house was gone before April 23, 1766.
